

Timbers, Ipswich, MA

A new timberframe pool house as a companion to a seventeenth century post and beam house in Ipswich.

The interior space features wood trusses fabricated from timbers that were reclaimed from the Harvard Student Union.

The building envelope and mechanical systems were carefully designed and engineered in response to the sensitive environmental factors related to indoor pools.

Builder Combined Energy Systems
Landscape Design Peter Hornbeck